

Data. Driven. Workflows.

Elementum is the only workflow platform native to Snowflake that uses your data to trigger automations. No data movement, no complex implementation cycles or managed services – just faster, cheaper, and more secure Data Driven Workflows powered by your Data Cloud.

Data Driven Workflows: Activate Your Snowflake Data

Data Driven Workflows continuously mine your Snowflake Data Cloud to identify patterns, relationships, thresholds, and outliers. Any change in this data triggers and self-optimizes workflows tailored to your unique business needs.

Data Driven Workflows in Action: Automating Software License Management

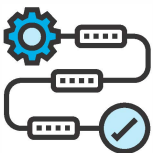

Snowflake-Native Workflows on Your Terms

Elementum helps businesses maximize the value of their data on day one. Simply connect and get up and start building workflows in hours – no code, no fuss, just automations.

100% Snowflake, All the Time.

Elementum views – never moves – data. Simply grant Elementum user access to Snowflake, choose the tables you want to join for your applications, and start building workflows. This strategy dramatically reduces setup time and costs, without sacrificing data governance or security.

Data-Driven Triggers. Data-Driven Actions.

Elementum proactively mines data within Snowflake, unveiling patterns and anomalies that trigger process-specific workflows. These workflows automatically assign tasks, escalate issues, generate notifications, and initiate approval chains. Adjust the trigger rules and analysis frequency to meet your unique needs. Experience comprehensive, closed-loop automation with API-out commands, seamlessly integrating with systems like SAP, Oracle, and Salesforce.

No-code, Easy Administration.

Elementum allows you to quickly and easily automate any process, regardless of its complexity. Choose from 50+ out-of-the-box processes or build your own workflow in minutes with natural language processing. All processes are drag-and-drop configurable in the no-code flow builder.

“Elementum empowers our customers to leverage cutting-edge technologies on Snowflake's unified platform. We're thrilled to facilitate workflow creation, alerts, and automation using Elementum on Snowflake's Data Cloud.”
